Referring yesterday to the contention of the Department of Justice that the Southern Pacific company shall not be allowed to realize more than $2.50 an acre for its Oregon and California land grant of acregors not suitable for settlement, William Sproule, president, said that the position of the government, if carried out, would force on the company was the owner of the lands under the grant by shell not it should sell them only to actual settlers in parcels not exceeding 160 acres at a price not to exceed $2.50 an acre.

As a result of this decision the Southern Pacific sold lands given to it by the government in excess of $2.50 an acre. As a result of this decision the Southern Pacific sold lands given to it by the government in excess of $2.50 an acre. These sales were made the foundation of a claim by the government in the company had forfeited its title to all the unsold lands.

"If the government position is correct," said Mr. Sproule, held for the Southern Pacific. And, further, this grant required the company to carry free for the United States government its mails, troops, munitions of war and public stores over this railread without limit as to time. The value of this free transportation at regular rates which has been furnished to the government equals $2,984,667, which amount exceeds the receipts of the company under the grant by $868,841.
